

MARK STEVENS

CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER

“FOR PEOPLE WHO WANT INDEPENDENCE AND FLEXIBILITY IN THEIR LIFE, AND WANT TO BE THEIR OWN BOSS, THERE IS NO BETTER TIME THAN NOW TO START A BUSINESS OF THEIR OWN. AMWAY’S STRONG FINANCIAL POSITION RESULTS IN BUSINESS OWNERS RECEIVING THE SUPPORT THEY NEED TO BE SUCCESSFUL.”

As chief financial officer, Mark Stevens is responsible for leading Amway’s worldwide financial functions and financial oversight to ensure growth, overseeing the company’s accounting, financial planning and reporting, forecasting, insurance, internal audit, and treasury and tax divisions. Stevens also is a member of Amway’s executive staff, the company’s top advisory team to the Office of the Chief Executive, composed of Amway Chairman Steve Van Andel and President Doug DeVos.

Before coming to Amway, Stevens served as vice president of worldwide sales finance for Apple. Under his direction, the team managed a portfolio representing 85% percent of the company’s revenues outside of Apple stores.

Stevens has 21 years of experience in finance in Asia, including China, Japan, Singapore and Malaysia, serving as CEO of VSOURCE, vice president of finance – Asia Pacific at Dell and a variety of leadership positions at Motorola.

Stevens earned a Bachelor of Arts in business administration and economics from Hope College, in Holland, Michigan, and a Master of Business Administration in finance from DePaul University, in Chicago. He is a Certified Public Accountant, and serves on the board directors for BUILD, an organization that strives to reduce the high school drop-out rate through entrepreneurship.